

Interview Talking Points

Is there a common denominator among couples married 50+ years? (Hint: It's not "commitment.")

Name 4 ways to solve 99.9% of all arguments.

Which has the greatest chance of lasting?

- A. A couple that lived together before getting married
- B. First marriage
- C. Second marriage
- D. Third marriage

Which lasts longer – "Opposites" or "Alikes"?

What's the 1 most common thing couples do that screw up marriage?

How does the "Mr. Potato Head Syndrome" destroy relationships?

What's the 1 point that the couples in your book disagree on?

What are 5 you-haven't-heard-these-before relationship tips?

"Honor the 5-Second Rule" for men – What's this about?

What's the "Give Your Spouse The Last Piece Of Pie" philosophy?

Do couples married 50-plus years have sex?

How do folded potato chips and crispy French fries help create a better relationship?

With shelves full of relationship and marriage self-help books, why do we need yours?

For those who are single (or wish they were single) and looking for love, what are some of the most unusual ways the couples met?